Consulting on professional recognition

We answer the question:

Do you need to have your qualification recognised in Germany?

Official recognition

In some cases, qualifications acquired abroad first have to be recognised in Germany. This process is called official recognition. Official recognition varies from profession to profession and from degree to degree. No matter which degree you have, we will show you where to go.

Working immediately

If your qualification is recognised in Germany, you can apply for a job in your profession.

On your way to recognition

We will show you where to go.

The "Integration through Qualification (IQ)" funding programme is supported by the Federal Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs and the European Social Fund. In Hesse, consulting on professional recognition is additionally funded by the Hessian Ministry of Science and Arts.

Qualification consulting

Together, we will get an answer to the question: Which qualification do you need for your profession to be fully recognised?

In some cases, qualifications acquired abroad are different from those in Germany. Then you need to study up. You need to acquire a qualification. We will assist you in having your qualification recognised in Germany.

We will show you:

- What qualifications you need.
- How and where you can learn what you need to have your qualification recognised – such as German, for example.
- How to get financing from job centres or employment agencies – because qualification does not come for free.
- We help you with issues regarding your personal costs when getting qualification.

Qualification opportunities

We help you ...
... with specific qualification opportunities.
... to improve your chances of working in your profession.

We offer qualification opportunities for various professions. This makes it possible to have your foreign qualification recognised – such as qualifications in the field of nursing, for example. We also assist foreign university graduates in improving their chances on the job market.
